AAPIQLI (American Association of Physicians of Indian Origin of Queens and Long Island) is the largest chapter of AAPI (Association of Physicians of Indian Origin). It enjoys a strong membership base of about 875 patron members plus several hundred young physicians, including students, residents and fellows of Indian origin residing in the New York and Long Island areas. We are an integral part of the New York State Health Care system and research programs. Several of our members act as department chairs and directors at both teaching and non-teaching hospitals of greater New York. Above all AAPIQLI represents the interest of over several thousand physicians of Indian origin practicing in the boroughs of New York, Nassau and Suffolk Counties.

This year, we are celebrating our 23rd annual convention with a Grand Annual Gala and also a comprehensive cutting-edge CME program. The CME program is scheduled for Sunday, November 18, 2018, at The De Mattie's Center, Greenvale, New York. The annual gala will be celebrated on Saturday, December 8, 2018, at the Huntington Hilton Hotel in Melville, New York. Both events are celebrated by more than 1000 attendees - physicians, leaders in the health care and leaders that make up the crème de La crème of the greater New York Community. Every year the funds raised from the convention is donated to several charitable organizations in the USA and abroad.

We are pleased to invite you to attend both these events, where you will have the opportunity to meet and interact with our physicians of several specialties and sub-specialties. These gatherings will give you ample time to display your products and services, as well as the opportunity to partake in sponsorship for the educational seminars, symposia and publications. To commemorate these events, a Souvenir Journal is published which annually reaches the homes and offices of several thousand readers across the country. Hence, this provides another opportunity to advertise and market your products and services. We also invite you to become a platinum, gold or silver sponsor of the Annual Convention to bring greater visibility to your product or services. If you have any questions or need further details, please do not hesitate to contact me or Dr. Vinni Jayam, our convention Chairman.

Sincerely,

Jagdish K. Gupta, MD
